Parking FAQ's

If I don't pay a parking violation, Will Hudson Parking forgive the violation after a year or more?

- No, we do not forgive parking violations. If you received a parking citation as far back as 2017, we would still attempt to make a collection. The final attempt will be after final notice, suspension, and unpaid citation letters are sent. If we are still unable to collect, you will be sent to the Credit Data Bureau.

If I am 65 years or older and own a business in downtown Hudson, would I qualify for a senior parking permit?

- No, you would NOT qualify. You must live in the "city limits" of Hudson and be 65 years or older to qualify. If you are a business owner, we would suggest purchasing an annual ($100) or monthly ($10) parking permit at Hudson Police Department (101 Vine Street)

How can I find out if I have any unpaid parking violations?

- You can visit hudsonwi.rmcpay.com, and once on the website you will have to provide your license plate, or VIN. If you have any unpaid citations they will show up.
- You can email the parking coordinator at ksoukup@hudsonwi.gov, if you are sending an email please make sure to provide the following information: Full name, Contact information, License Plate.

Lakefront Boat Launch

The Lakefront boat launch will be undergoing reconstruction this summer, with a substantial completion date of July 1st, 2022. The project will include raising the parking lot to allow boaters to access the river during high waters, the parking lot will also be expanded to the North, and the 3- lane launch will be replaced with 4-lanes

During most of the construction project the boat launch will be closed, to insure safety of workers, as well as the boaters. If you are looking at getting out on the river you may utilize the private launch (Kings Landing) right off of exit 1 as you enter into Hudson. Please make sure to read the landing rules when you arrive. The City also has a smaller launch on Lake Mallalieu (1530 2nd Street, Hudson WI 54016). Just be aware that you will not be able to access the river from this lake.

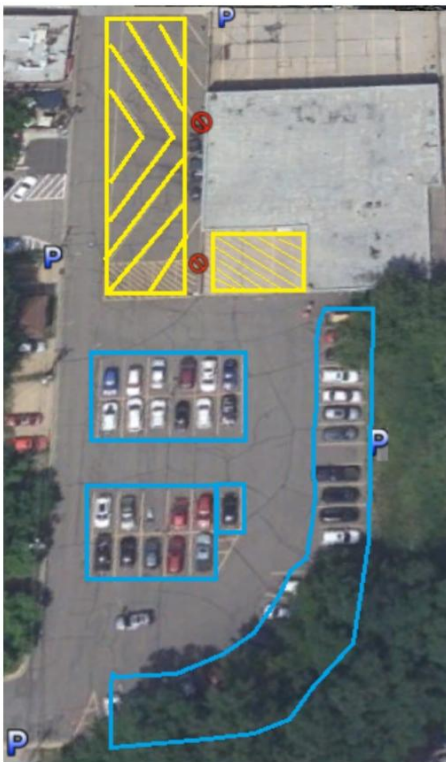

Williams Lot- No Parking Zone

Williams Lot is located behind the old Fire Hall (221 Commercial Street). Parking Enforcement has seen an increase of vehicles parking in the area where there are "No Parking Signs" and the concrete is marked with yellow lines. Drivers may think this area is part of the parking lot due to where the Williams Lot parking sign is posted along the 200 block of Walnut.

Per city ordinance 235-35 (D) "Markings or signs shall be placed upon and or adjacent to the lots indicated in subsection C stating that the parking is subject to regulations as set forth therein.

The map provided below shows where the signs are located, as well as the "No Parking Signs". Please make sure you that when you are parking in the Williams Lot you are in compliance.

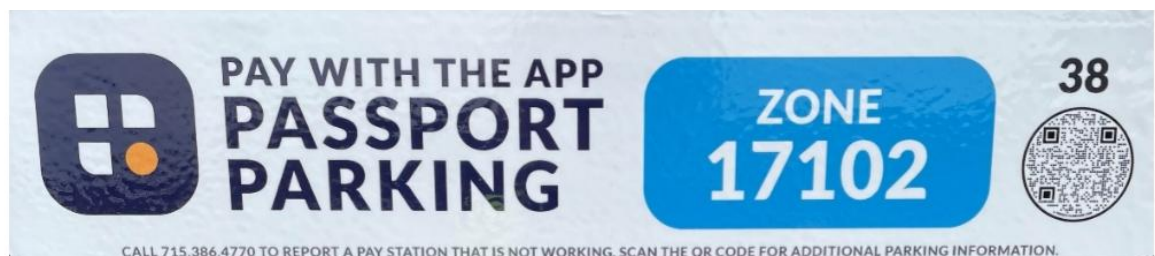

Williams Lot Map

- Yellow Boxes with stripes: No Parking Zone they are indicated by the yellow stripes on the concrete and the 2 No parking Signs placed on the concrete wall. (NOT ALLOWED TO PARK HERE)
- Blue Outlines: this is where you are allowed to park in the Williams Lot, this is permitted and up to 4- hours free.
- P: these are signs that indicate that it is the Williams lot. The signs are placed in accordance with the city ordinance
- : These show where the No Parking signs are placed.

New Pay Station Stickers

You may have noticed the updated stickers on the pay stations. This will help customers report any damage or non working pay stations. We have also provided a QR Code that links to the Hudson Parking Informational Guide.

How to file a report on a damaged or non working pay station. Please call the number listed on the sticker and leave a detailed message along with the pay station # located above the QR Code. If the current machine is out of order please pay at another pay station, or on the Passport App.
